

HOPE Star

VOLUME 31-NUMBER 170

(AP)—Means Associated Press
(NPA)—Means Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HOPE, ARKANSAS, WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1930

Star of Hope founded 1899. Hope Daily Press.
1927; Consolidated at Hope Star, January 14, 1929.

PRICE 5c C.G.P.

Byrd Lands At Balboa En Route To United States

Big Crowd Welcomes the South Pole Explorer and Companions

TO REMAIN 2 WEEKS

Big Celebration Awaits
Byrd On Return To Home State

BALBOA, Canal Zone, May 14.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard Byrd, homeward bound from his South Polar explorations, arrived at Balboa at 9:35 o'clock this morning. The Rear Admiral and his companions, who remained at Duredin, New Zealand longest, came into port here on the steamer Rangitiki to an enthusiastic welcome by people of the Canal Zone.

The explorer is en route to the United States from his historic airplane flight over the South pole. He probably will remain in the Canal Zone two weeks or longer to assemble companions so that all may return to New York to receive the American Nation's acclaim together.

Those aboard the Rangitiki were Russel Owens, New York Times correspondent; Lloyd Berkner; Charles C. Lofgren; William C. Haines and Richard Konter.

Will Honor Byrd

RICHMOND, Va., May 14.—(AP)—It's going to be a great day in Virginia June 17. Dick Byrd is coming home.

Winchester, the old home town, has foregone the honor of receiving him to permit Virginia to welcome her famous son at Richmond.

Here will gather thousands to acclaim Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd as scientist, explorer and conqueror of the north and south poles and the Atlantic ocean. Here also will be his wife, mother, brothers and members of his immediate family.

Virginia's admiration for his achievements will be expressed in the presentation of a sword of honor, to which more than 10,000 citizens contributed. Governor John C. Pollard will present it in the name of the state.

John Stewart Bryan, Richmond publisher and life-long friend of Admiral Byrd, will be his Richmond host, and will give a dinner in his honor.

The dinner will bring together the Byrd brothers, Tom, Dick and Harry; Thomas Byrd and Harry Byrd, former governor of Virginia, are leading fruit growers.

The public reception and presentation of the sword will be in Richmond's civic auditorium. Admiral Byrd will have opportunity to respond to the welcome after the presentation of the sword of honor.

The sword, designed in silver and gold, commemorates the famous flights over the north and south poles and the Atlantic crossing.

One feature is the list of his companions, engraved on the blade.

The hilt will bear the coat of arms of Virginia on one side and the arms of the Byrd family on the other. Below the Byrd crest will be Admiral Byrd's insignia as a naval officer.

An airplane, a dog sled and the ships of the Byrd Antarctic expedition are designed in precious metal along the body of the scabbard. At the heel is a chart with nautical symbols showing the route of the expedition to the south pole.

Third Victim Of Explosion Dies

Three Fatally Injured In Blast Near Cotton
Plant

LITTLE ROCK, May 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Fred Grammer, aged 28, third victim of an explosion following an attempt to fire the kitchen stove with kerosene at their farm home near Cotton Plant late yesterday, died in a Little Rock hospital last night at midnight.

Her 8-year-old son John, standing by Mrs. Grammer when she poured oil on the stove, was enveloped by flames caused by the blast and died soon afterwards, despite the heroic efforts made by his 10-year-old brother Clifford, who broke a window in the house and carried his sister to the open.

An invalid sister of Mrs. Grammer, Mrs. Maggie Jackson, aged 32, was burned when flames caught her bed afire where she was confined on account of illness. The husband, Fred Grammer and his son Clifford were the only ones to survive.

Booneville Marshal At Liberty Under Bond

BOONEVILLE, May 14.—(AP)—Sid Jones, Booneville city marshal was at liberty today under a $1,000 bond charged with involuntary manslaughter for the slaying of Jim Lewis, a rawhide owner, late Sunday afternoon. Jones said he shot Lewis when the latter resisted arrest. Preliminary hearing for the marshal has been set for May 22.

Mexican Ace Dies In Plane Crash

Hope Lumber Co. Purchases Tract Of Local Timber

BUYS 680 Acres From W.
L. Hickman Estate
Near Guernsey

MILL IS REPAIRED

Reporter and Tol Feild
Take Ride on Company Railroad

Purchase of a large timber tract in the southwestern part of Hempstead county was announced yesterday by Talbot Feild, general manager of the Hope Lumber company.

The tract which comprises parts of two sections, totalling 680 acres, is known as the W. L. Hickman estate. The deal was closed through Floyd Porterfield.

The Hickman land lies about 15 miles southwest of Hope, and about four miles south of Guernsey.

Will Truck Logs

Mr. Feild said that the logging would be handled by motor truck, and that this would probably be the last year for operation of the company's railroad, the Hope & Sutherland, which traverses the southwestern part of the county and which has furnished the bulk of the timber for the local mill during its eleven years' operation.

Hope Lumber company is one of the major industries of the city. It employs 100 men regularly, and its great plant is spread out over much of the northwestern corner of the town. The railroad maintains two locomotives and 20 logging cars. A train of 10 cars is brought into the mill every night.

The mill property has been overhauled during the last month, operations having been curtailed for about a week, to allow for repairs and improvements. The mill pond was drained and dredged, but is once more receiving daily consignment of logs from the railroad.

Ford on Railroad

"Among the unique pieces of equipment to be found at the mill is an old Ford car revamped to serve as a utility railroad car. Its only drawback, the fact that it will run faster forward than backward, is off-set by a home-made turntable which the crew carry along on extended trips.

When they want to turn around, the turntable is placed on the track ahead of the car. The Ford is run on the table, whirled about—and everybody starts for home "in high."

However, when the Star reporter went on a trip with Mr. Feild yesterday the turntable was overlooked, and the party came home in reverse gear. For the public's information, The Star is able to report that a model T Ford in reverse gear behaves on a railroad exactly as it does on the highway. It gets there—if you aren't interested.

Nevertheless, a ride in a railroad motor car is worth anybody's time. We had a cautious negro engineer, and everyone the Ford "locomotive" came to a highway crossing he slowed down to make sure that his strange craft was heavier than the mud on the tracks was thick. But the "engine" plowed through. We weren't derailed; and we left Mr. Feild with the promise to come back sometime when they could take the turntable along.

The Clarendon bridge is the largest single project that the highway commission ever received bids on.

Good Orchestra For Dance Friday

Ray Miller's Brunswick
Recording Musicians
to Play Here

"If an orchestra 'makes' a dance, the one Friday night should be the best ever held in this city," Talbot Feild, chairman of the dance committee, told a Star reporter today.

Many from southwest Arkansas will dance to the tune of Ray Miller's Brunswick Recording orchestra, which is under the direction of Marshal Vau Pool. This band is composed of eleven high class musicians, and has just completed a 12-weeks engagement at the Hotel Roosevelt in New Orleans, and comes to Hope from that city.

The dance is scheduled to start at 10 p.m. and will be held at the Elks home on North Elm street. One of the largest crowds of dance lovers to assemble here is expected when Ray Miller's musical organization comes to Hope.

Special courses which will be offered will be vocal and instrumental music under the direction of Miss Edie Davis, coach of the Muleriders girls basketball team. Miss Jewel Stevens coach of the play "Sun Up" with which the Dramatic club of A. & M. won second place in the Little Theatre contest held in Little Rock last winter.

Other special courses which will be offered will be vocal and instrumental music under the direction of Miss Maude Crumpler and Miss Minnie Hawking, instructors in the Fine Arts department of the college.

John F. Carle of Neosho, Kas., has spent 37 of his 81 years as a postmaster, serving under Presidents Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

Seek to Enjoin Pretty Aviatrix

195 Candidates In State Race, Ticket Closed

Senator Robinson Heads
List With Opposition
For Office

8 FOR LIEUT. GOV.

Field Is Largest In Years;
Curtis Cannon Is Candidate

LITTLE ROCK, May 14.—(AP)—The biennial state political campaign was in earnest today with the closing of the ticket last night at midnight for the August Democratic primary. In the race are 195 candidates for nomination to state and district offices. Heading the list is that for United States senate in which Senator Joe T. Robinson has opposition for the first time since 1918. Tom W. Campbell, Little Rock attorney and former chairman of the state Democratic Central committee, is his opposition.

In the gubernatorial campaign are two names familiar from the races two years ago, Governor Harvey Parnell and Brooks Hays, runner-up in 1928. In addition to lieutenant governor Lee Cazier, County Judge John C. Sheffield, of Helena, Thornberry Gray, of Batesville and Arthur A. Hill, state highway department employee.

Eight are candidates in the race for lieutenant governor, who are as follows: Curtis Cannon of Hope, former newspaper man and representative in the last legislature; W. P. Strait, of Morrilton; F. O. Butt, Eureka Springs; Freed Hutto of England; Lawrence C. Wilson, Camden; I. N. Moore, Dumas; Claude Rankin, Murfreesboro; and Tom A. Hill, Pine Bluff.

What's become of women's rights anyway? Here's pretty Marjorie Crawford, Los Angeles aviatrix whom an aviation company seeks to sign from flying for anyone else under the claim that it holds an exclusive contract.

Such legal processes are common in other industries but this is said to be the first in the field of women's rights.

The mill property has been overhauled during the last month, operations having been curtailed for about a week, to allow for repairs and improvements. The mill pond was drained and dredged, but is once more receiving daily consignment of logs from the railroad.

The Ford on Railroad

"Among the unique pieces of equipment to be found at the mill is an old Ford car revamped to serve as a utility railroad car. Its only drawback, the fact that it will run faster forward than backward, is off-set by a home-made turntable which the crew carry along on extended trips.

When they want to turn around, the turntable is placed on the track ahead of the car. The Ford is run on the table, whirled about—and everybody starts for home "in high."

However, when the Star reporter went on a trip with Mr. Feild yesterday the turntable was overlooked, and the party came home in reverse gear. For the public's information, The Star is able to report that a model T Ford in reverse gear behaves on a railroad exactly as it does on the highway. It gets there—if you aren't interested.

Nevertheless, a ride in a railroad motor car is worth anybody's time. We had a cautious negro engineer, and everyone the Ford "locomotive" came to a highway crossing he slowed down to make sure that his strange craft was heavier than the mud on the tracks was thick. But the "engine" plowed through. We weren't derailed; and we left Mr. Feild with the promise to come back sometime when they could take the turntable along.

The Clarendon bridge is the largest single project that the highway commission ever received bids on.

270 Bids Received On Thirty Projects

Contracts To Be Awarded
Thursday—$2,750,000
Involved

LITTLE ROCK, May 14.—(AP)—Approximately 270 bids were received by the State Highway commission today on 30 road and bridge projects involving an expenditure of $2,750,000. Contracts will be awarded by the commission tomorrow afternoon.

The projects include 23 road jobs, for construction of 78.8 miles of concrete and gravel roads, and seven bridge projects for construction of five miles of bridge work. The bridge projects, including construction of one and one-half miles of bridge work at Clarendon, four miles including the approaches and one and one-half miles of concrete bridge work.

The Clarendon bridge is the largest single project that the highway commission ever received bids on.

The Bankhead National Highway association, meeting jointly with the United States Good Roads association, will hold its fourteenth annual convention July 10. Judge J. P. Lightfoot, of Fort Worth, Tex., president; W. A. Boon of Mississippi, vice president. Delegates to this meeting will represent city, county and state clubs of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham, Alabama, director general of the association, representation being based upon one delegate for every ten members in good standing. More than two hundred Bankhead Highway clubs will be represented.

The outlook is for a large attendance as much interest and enthusiasm is being shown, according to statement of J. A. Roundtree of Birmingham

JUDGE & Star

THE PUBLICATION OF MATTER AT THE POSTOFFICE AT HOPE, ARKANSAS, UNDER THE ACT OF MARCH 3, 1875.

BY STAR PUBLISHING COMPANY
115 South Main Street
Hope, Arkansas

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. R. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

NOTE: The Associated Press, The Associated Press is exclusively responsible for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.
Reproduction of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Subscription Rates

(Always Payable in Advance)

By carrier, per month $3.50; six months $2.75; one year $3.00. By Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.00 elsewhere $3.50.

The Star's Platform

CITY

Support the resources of the municipal power plant to develop the industrial and social resources of Hope.

Help keep pavement in 1930, and improved sanitary conditions in the village and business back-yards.

Support the Chamber of Commerce.

COUNTY

An annual highway program providing for the construction of a minimum amount of all-weather road each year, to gradually reduce the dirt road mileage.

Political and economic support for every scientific agricultural program which offers practical benefits to Hempstead county's greatest industries.

Encourage farmer organizations, believing that co-operative effort is practical in the country as it is in town.

STATE

Continued progress on the state highway program.

Further tax reform, and more efficient government through the budget system of expenditure.

Free Arkansas from the cattle tick.

Jobs For College Men

SOMETIMES within the next month or six weeks, a good many thousand young men will leave college campuses all over the United States and look about them for jobs that will carry them through the summer and help them defray their college expenses.

The day when college was the haunt of the pampered sons of wealthy parents is pretty well gone. Every year the percentage of college students who earn all or part of their expenses of their educations is rising. If college undergraduates were suddenly limited to those whose fathers could pay all of their expenses, the enrollment in American colleges and universities would show a tremendous drop.

These youngsters, who are putting themselves through college by their own efforts, are ambitious and energetic.
They are the ones who stand to profit by their educations.
They, more than the lads from wealthy homes, are the chaps of whom we can expect big things in future years. It is rather important that they find work that will enable them to return to college next fall.

And yet—
This is going to be a bad summer for the college boys.
There are a great many men out of work throughout the nation, and when a college boy lands a summer job this year he will, in most cases, simply be standing in the way of some older man who needs the work much more; needs it to provide for himself and his family.

Thus the business depression hands us another perplexing little problem to ponder over.

College men very often like to pick out rough, tough jobs for the summer months. Some of them work as steamship deck hands. Others get jobs in road construction gangs, or work as harvest hands in the wheat belt, or hire out as day laborers on big engineering projects. Yet these are precisely the jobs that the army of the unemployed is looking forward to as a means of relief. If the college boys take them in any numbers the older men and their families are going to suffer.

It's a tough problem. Everyone likes to see an ambitious young man earn money for a college education. But this year it seems as if there are other considerations that ought to come first.

A Pilgrim of Pride

WAR'S heroism isn't all displayed on the battlefield. It's sacrifices are not confined to soldiers. Just now events center attention upon a group of the American population which symbolizes in our minds the sacrifice, the bravery and the patriotic devotion of the World war. The mothers of soldiers displayed the qualities of greatness when they sent their sons to the service of their country. Thousands of them were to learn that their sons would not come back. They accepted their loss heroically. They won the admiration of the nation and the name "Gold Star Mother" became an inspiring symbol of all war's sacrifice.

Now 232 of these mothers, the first group of a large number, are en route to France to visit the graves of their sons. Some of them are aged, most of them past middle age.
Few of them ever thought to go to France, just as few of that army of millions of young men which went over the sea in 1917 and 1918 never thought to make such a journey.

But these thousands of mothers whose sons are buried in France have undoubtedly longed in silence to see the spot where their loved ones lie. And now many of them are to have this longing satisfied. They are making an inspiring pilgrimage.

It isn't a pilgrimage of sorrow. Pride helped them to conceal their grief when war took the lives of their sons, and it is a pilgrimage of pride which takes them on a strange journey to a strange land today.—Jonesboro Evening Sun.

How Cuba Handled Capone

THE Republic of Cuba is not, of course, nearly as enlightened as and forward a nation as the mighty United States of America. Just the same, our advanced and self-satisfied United States might take a small tip, now and then, from the Cuban way of doing things.

Al Capone, who seems quite able to follow his career in the United States in perfect freedom despite all of the crimes that are laid to his door, went on a visit to Havana recently.
The visit didn't last very long—only two days, to be exact.
Then Capone left. Cuban police authorities quietly but firmly instructed him to get out and stay out—and he obeyed.

In that one respect, Cuba seems to be a few jumps ahead of us. Capone has the United States buffalooed. He comes and goes about as he please, and no one seems to know just how to deal with him. But Cuba—well, it took Cuba just 48 hours to pitch him out of the country.—Paragould Daily Press.

Fits, Fine, Uncle, Except for a Little Slack in the Back!

Dry Head Admits Capital Lobbying

"We are lobbyists," the Rev. Dr. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, admitted when, as pictured here, he testified before the Senate lobby investigating committee in Washington. But lobbying, he said, represented only five per cent of the league's activities. He listed the organization's expenditures last year at $273,049.

college-boy sweetheart in "Sweetie." In addition to Smith there in the big supporting cast are Harry Green, of "The Kibitzer" fame; ZaSu Pitts, whose dolorous helplessness as a "sap" character has brought roars of laughter in every one of the twelve feature pictures she has played in; Lillian Roth, who played opposite Lupino Lane in Maurice Chevalier's "The Love Parade"; Skeet Gallagher, of "Fast Company" and "Pointed Heels" fame; Mitzi Green, the nine-year old youngster, who scored a big hit in her film debut as one of the wise-cracking children in "The Marriage Playground"; Charles Selton, the burke, and Mary Brian's father, in "Burning Up" and Jobbyn Howland, tallest woman of the Broadway stage, whose fame on the legitimate stage brings her this first chance as a character comedienne in the talking films.

"Sweetie" is based on the famous comedy success "Come Out of the Kitchen" by Alice Duer Miller and A. E. Thomas.

Nancy Carroll, the flaming-haired sweetie of "Sweetie" fame, is to be seen and heard in her second musical romance, and her second starring picture when "Sweetie" comes to the Saenger theatre today for two days. "Sweetie" is based on the famous comedy success "Come Out of the Kitchen" by Alice Duer Miller and A. E. Thomas.

The cuddlesome Miss Carroll plays the role of the Southern girl, who is forced by circumstances to assume an Irish brogue and play the role of cook in her own plantation kitchen. Stanley Smith plays the role of Burton Crane, young scion of wealth, who falls in love with Nancy during a visit to her plantation. Smith was her organized exchange of information. General prosperity is founded on purchasing power and purchasing power is founded on stable employment at adequate wages. The obvious obligation of every executive able to make or influence business is in the direction of maintaining purchasing power.

"I cannot imagine application of the dole in this country without a return of compensating service. The authorities should find some means of creating public employment, so that even an untrained and possibly inefficient worker would be performing a real service in exchange for an employment emergency wage. Whether this would be found in road building, reforestation, land-clearing, land-draining or what not, it would be a wage and not a dole."

Another Bostonian, President Howard Coonley of the Walworth Company, told how his concern had worked out its stabilization program in New England. He argued that consumers' needs were comparatively even, that what the worker wants most is a steady job and that production is most profitable when maintained at an average.

Under a budgeting and scheduling plan, Coonley said sales managers made estimates of each customer's requirements for the year. These estimates are carefully studied and checked and the production program is mapped out. It calls for balanced inventories which will not be too small during periods of large sales volume and not disproportionately large during periods of low sales volume. When orders are slack in inventory is built up and when they are heavy the inventory is allowed to run down. Thus inventory fluctuates substantially but production and employment do not.

The least we can do is to add to the principle of orderly marketing by extending the principle of orderly replacement or reinstatement of labor by matching the job and the man so far as this can be accomplished by thoroughly understanding of each customer's requirements for the year.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning.

The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste material and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing

Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by

"that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts
at Wurd & Son or any drug store

(lasts 4 weeks) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

One Montana woman lost 19 pounds of fat in 4 weeks and feels better than she has for years.—Adv.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

Ohio doctors who feel that they
have been kept away long enough
will probably be cheered at the report that the apple crop in their state
has been destroyed.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Sid Henry

Telephone 321

but as we meet and touch each day
the many travelers on our way,
Let every such brief contract be
A glorious, helpful ministry!
The contact of the soil and seed;
Each giving to the other's need—
Each helping on the other's best,
And blessing each as well as best!

—Selected.

Miss Carolyn Rhodes of Arkadelphia is spending the week in the city visiting with Drs. Charles and Etta Champlin and other friends.

Mrs. Mary Biller of Little Rock is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker.

Circle No. 4 of the Woman's Misionary Society of the First Baptist church will conduct a food sale Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Fred Laster on North Elm street.

Mrs. W. H. Hutchinson spent today with friends and relatives in Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sprague, Sturt Sprague and Mrs. H. H. Stuart visited with friends and relatives in Texarkana Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Marshall of Texarkana will be in the city tomorrow and direct her vocal class at the home of Miss Maggie Bell on South Main street.

Dale Parker of Ouachita college, Arkadelphia is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker.

Mrs. J. H. Arnold, Mrs. Evan Wray and Miss Mary Arnold motored to Texarkana yesterday.

Mrs. A. C. Reynorson spent Sunday visiting with Conductor A. C. Reynorson in Shreveport.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. F. Agee on East Second street with Mrs. Bert Keith and Mrs. Henry Watkins as associate hostesses. Mrs. K. G. McRae, Sr., will present the program.

Bert Keith made a business trip to Arkadelphia yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Sullivan left today for a two week's visit in St. Louis and other Missouri points.

Mrs. J. A. Gentey of Shreveport arrived last night for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Douthitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Billings are spending a few days visiting in Little Rock. Mr. Billings is one of a class of 95 who will receive the high masonic degree at the Consistory this spring.

The Every Man's Bible class of the Hollingsworth and Pangburn Candies

MORELAND'S

Prescription Druggists

WARD & SON
"We've got it!"
The leading druggists
Phone 62

TODAY
TOMORROW

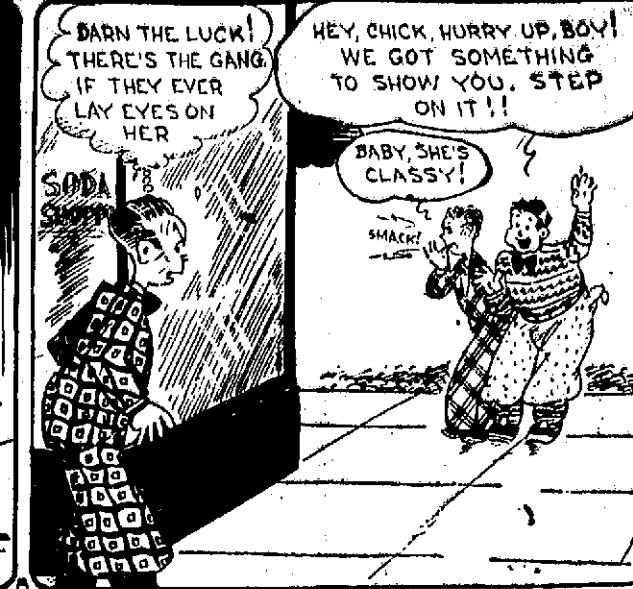

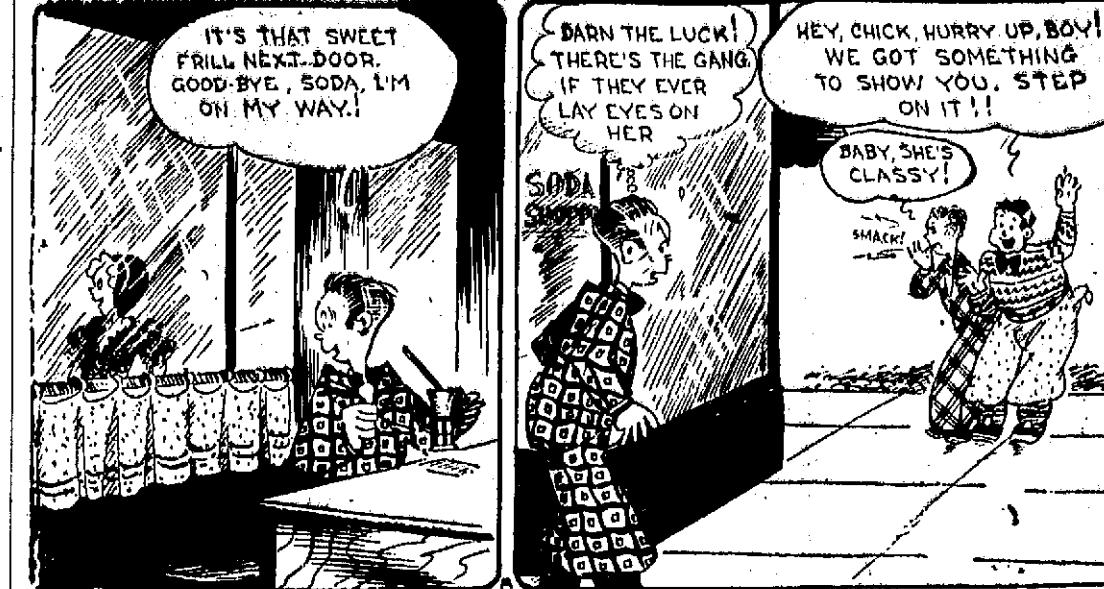

Nancy Carroll
In
"HONEY"

With STANLEY SMITH
And an All Star Cast of Funsters.

A Musical Romance
That's A Riot!
Don't Miss It!

MOM'N POP

Competition

Miss Ruth Anderson of this city underwent an operation for appendicitis this morning at Pine Street Sanitarium in Texarkana.

Miss Blanch Campbell of Foreman is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Stewart are overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stewart in Nashville.

PARIS PUTS flowers on her loveliest spring hats, even when tailored. The cluster of pink, yellow and blue in pastel shades on this black Parisian gives the smart lingerie touch.

First Christian Sunday school entertained the primary department last evening at an ice cream fete at the Bungalow. Little Miss Anaece Newton of the primary department presented the program, including instrumental and vocal music and readings. Following a most pleasant evening, Dixie cups and butter wafers were served.

Basil Newton left this morning for Little Rock after spending the weekend visiting with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson made a business trip to Nashville this afternoon.

The engagement of Miss Viva Bennett, daughter of Mrs. C. J. Bennett of West Division street to Brooks Hamilton, formerly of this city, now of Russellville, Ark., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hamilton of Hope was announced at a very delightful bridge party given last evening by Miss Nell Bennett at her home on West Division street. The card rooms were brilliant with a profusion of variegated spring flowers and arranged for five tables, with the accessories still further observing the spring flower motif. Mrs. J. Proctor Hill won the high score favor and was presented with a dainty gift. The announcement was made when at the close of the game, when the "Cat" was let out of the bag" with a card as follows: "June 12th, Viva and Brooks." The ices were pink and white hearts topped with cupids. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride on June 2. Out of town guests were Misses Nannie Jett, Ina Logan, Lenora Wilson and Mrs. Willie Cox of Fulton.

Mrs. Robert Campbell was hostess yesterday afternoon to the members of the Tuesday bridge club at her home on North Elm street. The rooms were bright and attractive with a quantity of lovely spring flowers and arranged for two tables. Contract bridge was played. Miss Blanch Campbell of Foreman was an out of town guest. Following the game, the hostess served a delicious salad plate with tea.

Mrs. Carter Johnson will entertain the members of the Thursday bridge club tomorrow afternoon at her home on East Second street.

Birthday greetings to the following members: Martha Waddle, John Wallace, Olin Jones, D. B. Phillips, Charles Brant, Ray Lewis, Wilma Davis and Freida May Jones.

And now let's talk about the big picnic for a minute. All you boys and girls be sure to elect a captain from each room to help us plan the games. We want a lot of games, and it will take a lot of people to think of enough really good ones. So be sure to turn in your captains names to us on Saturday. And all of you be thinking of a good place near here on one of these Saturdays; one that we can have our picnic. And we'll go to the place that the most of you turn out to hear about it. We've only been having about four hundred members present, and we have over eight hundred enrolled. Let's try to have one hundred per cent attendance on Saturday.

Five minutes of thought is often equal to an hour of hustling.

Through the Meshes.

GRAND TODAY AND THURSDAY

See and Hear

REGINALD DENNY in

—ONE— HYSTERICALLY

—NIGHT—

A speedy and clever comedy of mixed identities that will keep you howling with delight. You've never seen a picture like it before. It has new angles and new twists that place it among the most unusual pictures of the year.

Other Features

COMING MONDAY

TANNED LEGS
Girl Music Revue

Outstanding Features of the New Ford

New streamline bodies.

Choice of attractive colors.

Adjustable front seats in most bodies.

Fully enclosed, silent four-wheel brakes.

Four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers.

Bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts.

Chrome silicon alloy valves.

Aluminum pistons.

Chrome alloy transmission gears and shafts.

Torque-tube drive.

Three-quarter floating rear axle.

Extensive use of fine steel forgings and electric welding.

More than twenty ball and roller bearings.

Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

Five steel-spoke wheels.

55 to 65 miles an hour.

Quick acceleration.

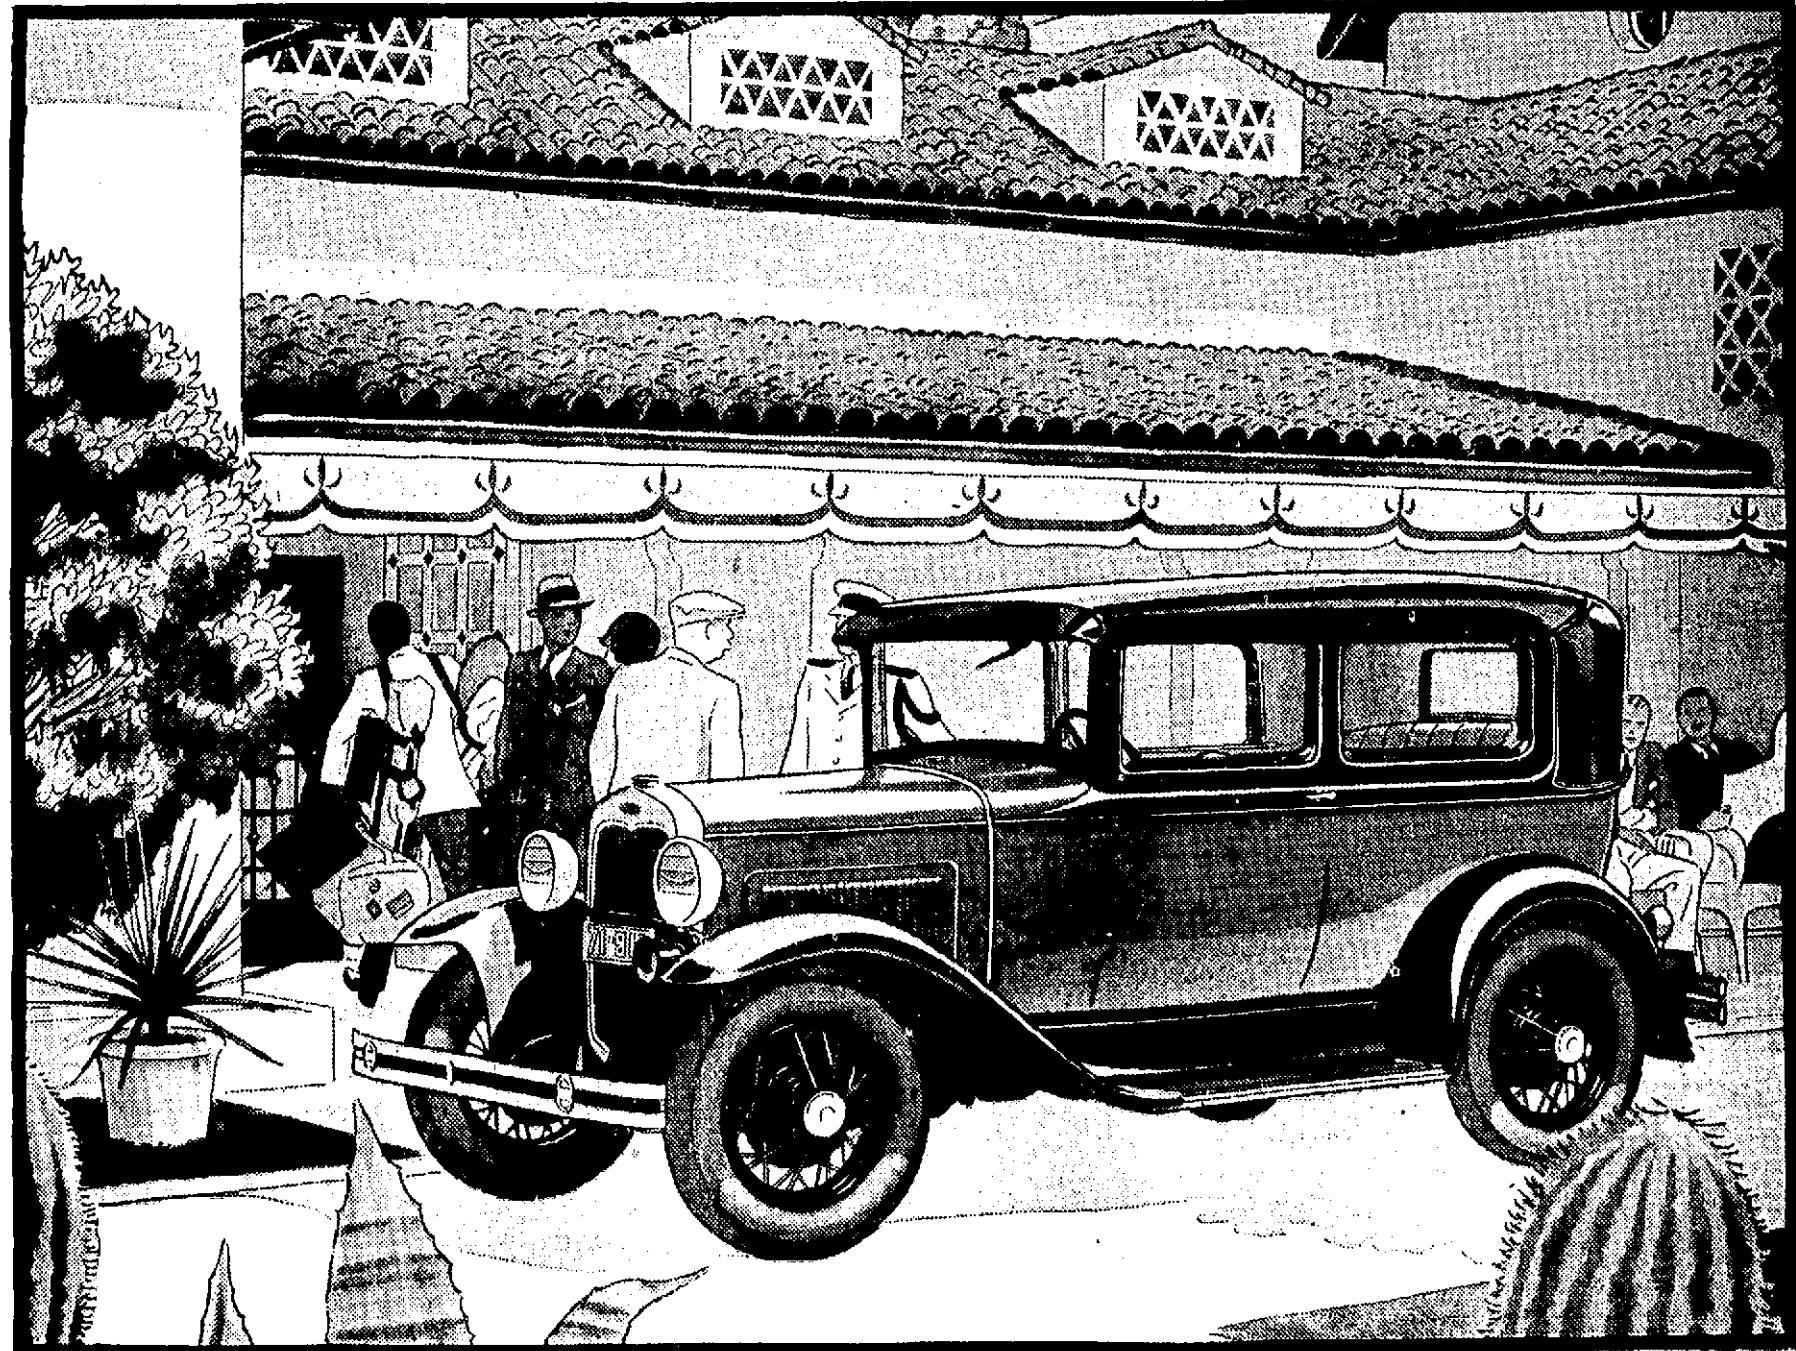

Ease of control.

Low first cost.

Economy of operation.

Reliability and long life.

Good dealer service.

THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

Roadster . . . . .	$435	Coupe . . . . .	$500	De Luxe Coupe . . . . .	$550	Convertible Cabriolet $645
Phaeton . . . . .	$410	Tudor Sedan . . . . .	$500	Three-window		De Luxe Sedan . . . . .
				Fordor Sedan . . . . .	$625	Town Sedan . . . . .

All prices f. o. b. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra, at low cost.
Universal Credit Company plan of time payments offers another Ford economy.

Semi-Annual Sale

Of Men's, Women's, Children's First Quality

ALLEN-A HOSIERY

Starts Tomorrow—Ends Monday
Newest Styles—Newest Shades

20% Off

Every Pair Guaranteed

Reed Routon & Co.

116 S. Elm

Phone 28

A PAGE of SPORT NEWS

GALLANT KNIGHT HAS BACKERS

by William Braucher

With Dachshund Effects

Well, here comes Max Sigmund Adolf Otto Schmeling, with dachshunds, cuckoo clocks and all! He has confided as yet what use he means to make of the dachshunds. Maybe he will give 'em to Sharkey as sparring partners. And the cuckoo clocks? Maybe he will give these to the members of the New York Athletic Commission. The cuckoo wouldn't be lonely in such company.

Goals, showmanship, anyway, those dogs and clocks, say we, and they recall somehow the last visit of a foreign fighter bent on attempting to win what is indulgently called the world's heavyweight championship. Remember Gorgeous George? And his many suits, hats and flowing robes, with canes to match?

A Clock for Corbett?

MAYBE Max ought to give one of those clocks to Jim Corbett, the well-known former heavyweight champion and the world's worst guesser. Jim guesses that the Hungry Hamburger will be world champion by 1931. Corbett, you know, has guessed wrong on every fight that one he had himself down in New Orleans years ago with John L. Sullivan, and he wasn't very sure who was going to win that one.

Speaking of foreign entanglements, Corbett himself was called upon twice to do the "patriotic" thing by keeping the world's heavyweight championship in America. The first occasion was the challenge of Peter Jackson, who had won the championship of the British Empire and who was one of the last of the upstanding British heavyweights. Corbett fought 61 rounds even Steven with Jackson. Then there was the affair of Charlie Mitchell, whom Corbett knocked out in four rounds. Neither of these gents brought over any cuckoo clocks, but they carried punches that made many of their opponents think cuckoos were bass violins. And neither Jackson nor Mitchell came with dachshund effects.

More Evidence

CORBETT says, however, that we must wait for more evidence on

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
PRIMO CARNERA'S appetite is said to be the biggest on record . . . but let us not forget Luis Angel Firpo . . . one September afternoon, Luis took on a platter of spaghetti, an extra thick tenderloin steak with mushrooms, potatoes and vegetables, a quart of ice cream and half of a coconut cake . . . all he did that same evening was to knock Jack Dempsey into the press box.

When Gene Tunney was in training he used to drink three quarts of milk a day . . . they say that in his heyday L'il Artha Johnson used to chew up three or four whole chickens at a meal . . . and George Godfrey can eat a lot more chickens than that . . . one of Dempsey's favorite dishes is pigs' knuckles and sauer kraut, and how he can destroy it! . . . and they say that Kid Broad used to order beef stew for dessert.

Schmeling, to be obtained in the Sharkey fight, before passing judgment on his candidacy. Paulino was no problem for Max, according to Jim, who adds also that if Schmeling had been a little more ring-wise he would have known how to knock out Uzzy.

Corbett says the German knows little about feinting, nothing at all about countering. Schmeling's right is much the better hand but Jim would not say that he is a one-handed fighter.

"If he will learn from others," says Corbett, "his possibilities are unlimited. He has a tremendous lot to acquire before he can be rated a real fighter.

"But right now I believe that by 1931 Schmeling will be champion. It's up to Sharkey."

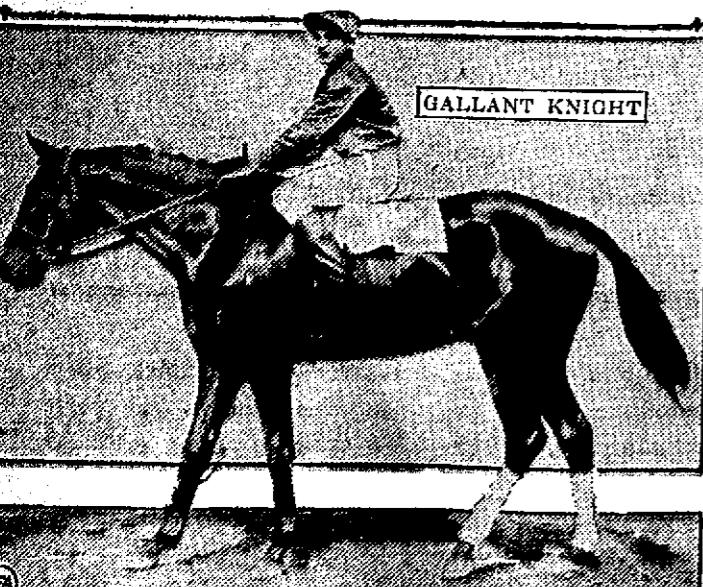

"Yes, yes, Jim, and if he can beat Sharkey without knowing how to feint, how to counter and without a great left hand, say we, more power to Max Sigmund Adolf Otto Schmeling, and his cuckoo and dachshund, too!"

He Rules Derby Favorites

With old man Earle Sande slated to ride him and by reason of his recent victory in the Wood Memorial, this horse Galant Fox is just about the hottest bet at the Kentucky Derby. His odds have been cut to 2 to 1. Galant Fox represents the Belair Stud and is by Sir Gallahad III and Marguerite.

Gallant Knight Has Backers

Gallant Knight, a Derby entry from the Audley Farm, is well liked by Kentuckians who have watched him in recent workouts at Louisville. Gallant Knight is a brown colt, the son of Bright Knight and Ethel Gray.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THERE'S RILEY'S PLANE!!

WELL, SO FAR SO GOOD....
WELL LAND AND SEE
IF WE CAN SCARE UP
RILEY SOMEWHERE
!!

It Won't Be Long Now!

GET YOUR HARDWARE, BOYS!!
LOOKS LIKE WE'RE GOING TO HAVE SOME CALLERS...
WELL - LET THEM COME!

HECK! THAT ISN'T RILEY'S PLANE AFTER ALL!! A BIG CABIN SHIP...HMM...THAT'S FUNNY!!

GEE! I HOPE THEY ARREST
FARBAR-THEN ILL GO AND TELL RILEY AND WELL
GET OUT OF THIS PLACE...
AN I CAN SOON BE BACK HOME...WHERE I BELONG!!

By Blosser

Announce Ashdown Gridiron Schedule

Hope High Bobcats Will Be First Game for Earl Tye's Team

ASHDOWN, May 14.—Coach Earl Tye has announced the football schedule for his high school team for the next season. He said prospects for a good team are bright and much material from which to choose.

The schedule follows:

- Sept. 9—Hope vs. Ashdown at Ashdown.
- Sept. 26—Stamps vs. Ashdown at Stamps.
- Oct. 3—Horatio vs. Ashdown at Ashdown.
- Oct. 10—Lockesburg vs. Ashdown at Lockesburg.
- Oct. 17—Waldo vs. Ashdown at Ashdown.
- Oct. 29—Amity vs. Ashdown at Amity.
- Oct. 31—Open.
- Nov. 7—Foreman vs. Ashdown there.
- Nov. 14—Open.
- Nov. 21—DeQueen vs. Ashdown at Ashdown.
- Nov. 27—Foreman vs. Ashdown at Ashdown.

"What's the latest news about busines?" asked the Literary Digest.

"Surely they're set coming to the front!" replied the Tampa Tribune.

The Standings

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

Clubs	W.	L.	Pc.
Memphis	20	9	.690
New Orleans	17	9	.654
Birmingham	15	12	.528
Chattanooga	15	14	.517
Little Rock	13	17	.433
Mobile	12	16	.429
Atlanta	10	17	.370
Nashville	10	18	.357

Yesterday's Result

Birmingham 7 Little Rock 1.
Memphis 5-9, Atlanta 4-4.
Mobile 9-2, Nashville 4-6.
New Orleans 12, Chattanooga 8.

Games Today

Little Rock at Birmingham.
Nashville at Mobile.
Memphis at Atlanta.
Chattanooga at New Orleans.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Philadelphia	17	7	.708
Washington	16	9	.640
Cleveland	14	9	.600
New York	11	11	.500
Boston	11	14	.440
Chicago	9	13	.400
St. Louis	10	15	.400
Detroit	9	19	.357

Yesterday's Result

New York 4, St. Louis 1.
Philadelphia 14, Chicago 7.
Detroit 4, Boston 1.
Cleveland 11, Washington 6.

Games Today

St. Louis at New York.
Chicago at Philadelphia.
Detroit at Boston.
Cleveland at Washington.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Clubs	W.	L.	Pc.
New York	14	8	.636
Chicago	16	9	.632
Pittsburgh	12	11	.522
Cincinnati	12	11	.522
St. Louis	13	12	.520
Brooklyn	11	11	.500
Boston	8	14	.364
Philadelphia	7	15	.318

Yesterday's Result

Chicago 9, Boston 8.
St. Louis 6, New York 4.
Philadelphia 14, Pittsburgh 8.
Brooklyn-Cincinnati, rain.

Games Today

Boston at Chicago.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.
New York at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Pittsburgh.

TEXAS LEAGUE

Clubs	W.	L.	Pc.
Wichita Falls	19	10	.655
Houston	19	11	.633
Shreveport	18	13	.581
Beaumont	15	12	.556
Waco	15	16	.484
Fort Worth	14	17	.452
Dallas	11	19	.367
San Antonio	10	23	.303

Yesterday's Result

Fort Worth 7, San Antonio 5.
Waco 13, Dallas 7.
Only games played.

Hall Will Fight Panama Kidd Here

Weekly Boxing Show At Skating Rink Promises to Be Good

This week's boxing show at the skating rink promises to be the best held this year. Many fighters are scheduled to battle, and among them are Johnny Hall, of Little Rock, one of the greatest drawing cards ever to fight here. Hall arrived in Hope this morning and is working out at the rink in preparation for a battle with "Panama Kid" Portician of Baton Rouge, La., who are scheduled to stage a 10-round final Thursday night.

The show will open with a battle royal between five blacks, who will furnish plenty of laughs for those who attend.

Ed Davis, of Hope, is matched with John Scott, of Prescott, which will follow the battle royal in a four-round fight.

The next fight will be staged between "Hawk" Hawthornes, of Prescott, and Walter Sanford of Bowden, who make their initial appearance before Hope fight fans. They are scheduled to battle five rounds.

The third fight encounter fans will see "Bib Boy" Harold, of Fulton matched with Jimmy Riley, of Stevens, Ark., in a three-round engagement.

Promoters Robins and Campbell who stage fights at the skating rink, have been asked to find someone that is able to whip Johnny Hall, who has been victorious in every battle he has fought here. The promoters got in touch with "Panama Kid" of Baton Rouge, and today he wired from that place a statement saying he would arrive in Hope tonight, and expects Hall one of the greatest battles ever fought.

"This Portician is good and I'm going to give Hope fans a real show, and a chance to see a boy in action that I believe can whip Hall, who will go on in the main event," promoter Robins told a Star reporter today. "He is costing us plenty of money, and for the extra fight expense to bring him here, we are going to charge 25 cents extra for the show Thursday," Robins said.

They happened on two memorable occasions in the fourth and fifth games of the last world's series. The Cubs led, 8 to 0, in the seventh inning of the fourth game and 2 to 0 in the ninth inning of the fifth game, with one out.

They lost both because Charley Root and Pat Malone decided they could toss a few batting practice balls with impunity. These same batting practice balls immediately were deposited in various places, in and outside Shibe Park, by agile members of the Athletics.

The A's have manifested again this spring a striking tendency to pull games out of the fire. Of the first eleven games they won, the Mackmen came from behind in five to triumph. In three they reserved the winning outburst until the ninth.

It isn't safe to claim anything against the A's until the last man is out.

Two of the most dangerous batters in the pinches in major league baseball are Glenn Wright, Brooklyn's veteran shortstop, and Al Simmons, the right-handed "Cob" of the Athletics, the right-handed miffielder. These two for years have been consistently up around the top in runs-batted-in. They possess the faculty that is about as useful as anything in the game—the ability to rise to the emergency, to be at their best when a hit means runs.

This year marks the twentieth anniversary of the University of Washington's first rowing invasion of the waters East of the Rockies. The Huskies came no further than Lake Mendota in 1910 when Hiram Corbin, founder of the so-called "Washington Stream," brought them East to race Wisconsin. They lost to the Badgers in a three-mile contest that year but haven't been beaten by Wisconsin since. This June, Washington rows on Lake Mendota for the sixth time as a prelude to coming on to Poughkeepsie and the quest for national rowing laurels.

Washington made its debut at Poughkeepsie in 1913, finishing third, and came back in 1914 to land in fifth place. It was not until 1922 that the Huskies again essayed the long journey, under Ed Leader, whose varsity crew finished second and made such an impression that Leader was induc-

Girl, Crack Revolver Shot at 13, Beats Experts With Unerring Aim

Score of 263 out of a possible 300. She competed against 75 experts from the army and police departments.

When Arlynne Brown of St. Louis, placed a revolver in her hand the first time, the girl had a characteristic fear of firearms. It wasn't long however, before that was overcome.

A range has been built in the basement of the Brown home, where father and daughter practice together. Their scores are about even usually, with

The Husband Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY

NATALIE CONVERSE tries to tongue her jealousy over her husband, ALAN. But they quarrel over BERNARDINE, who left a childless widow when she sent him to look after her son, BOBBY, whose father had saved Alan's life during the war.

Alan abhors Natalie's attitude. Alan, a man of few words, is secretary, PHILLIPA WEST, who is waiting for the opportunity to widen the breach between husband and wife.

Phillipa has several things to arouse Natalie's suspicion and one day Alan finds her packing to leave him. Wounded pride prevents either from seeking a reconciliation. Alan goes to the house where Natalie and her family of the break and promises to take her younger sister back to New York with her. Still she will not write to Alan, hoping he will come to her.

Natalie's silence merely arouses his resentment and spurs him on with Phillipa, who helps make him feel that he has been neglected and abused, never getting together constantly, and, when Phillipa fears that he does not intend to propose marriage, she tells him she has written to her going with a married man.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIII

"ALAN," Phillipa cried softly.

"Alan, take me home!"

"Phillipa, dear girl, don't you know that's what I'm trying to do? ask you to let me take you home?"

Phillipa's eyes were melting in tears. "Please," she begged. "I can't Alan. I told mother . . ."

"I thought you hated interference."

"I do, I do. And I felt like fighting, but they're right, Alan. Not because it isn't proper for us to be together—I wouldn't mind that—but . . ."

Alan laughed. "You are keen on being proper, Phillipa, whether you know it or not. But don't worry, that's one of the things I like about you—you're regular and not forever monkeying with new theories."

Phillipa averted her face. "B . . . ut, it isn't that," she stammered.

Alan experienced new fear. "You aren't going to tell me now that you think I'm just a nice sort to go around with, are you?" he asked.

Phillipa did not answer.

"Maybe," Alan suggested, his trepidation plainly apparent in his voice, "you dread hearing what you think I'm going to say to you. Is that it, Phillipa?"

"Dread it!" Phillipa whispered. Her accent gave Alan courage.

"Perhaps you can't forget the past," he went on. "I don't blame you, dear, if you can't. It would be easier for me, and he'd be a great deal happier, too, if I could tell you that I'd never loved anyone else. But that isn't so, and you know it."

Phillipa said nothing.

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn lest any turn too soon. He was the first placing judge.

Five Argive warriors accepted the issue—Antilochus, Eumeus, Menelaus, Meriones and Diomedes.

Let Homer tell how Antilochus crowded Menelaus off the course to gain second place; after Eumeus, lead-

drove Menelaus . . . Antilochus turned his whole-hooved horses out of the track and followed him a little at one side. Menelaus took alarm and shouted to Antilochus: "Thou art driving recklessly—hold in thy horses! The road is narrow, soon though mayest pass me in a wider place!"

"Thus spake he, but . . . Antilochus drove even fiercer than before plowing his lash, as though he heard him not . . ."

Those who know both their classics, however, have no doubts. They scoff at the idea that any of the accounts which will be written of the Kentucky Derby, following the race May 17, will better Homer's effort:

"Then altogether, lifted the lash above their steeds, and snote them with the reins, and called on them eagerly with words, and they forthwith sped swiftly over the plain."

The racing writeup is in Book XXIII of the Hand. It reports a chariot race run many centuries before the Christian era.

The race was run after the funeral of Patroclus, an Argive warrior slain by Hector in the Trojan war.

They called off the war for the day, laid out a course and placed Phoenix

at the turn

Cocoa Raised by Tropic Toilers Must Obey N. Y. Exchange's Price

Trading on New York Cocoa Exchange (top) of which Eugene Canale (inset) is president, dictates world price on cocoa shown being dried in Africa (below).

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP)—Thousands of half-savage black men toiling under a tropical sun raise cocoa for the white man's sweet tooth, but the market price is established by the trading on the New York Cocoa Exchange.

Dependent upon Africa and Brazil for the cocoa bean it consumes in candy, beverages and other United States nevertheless dictates the price of cocoa in other markets.

This is due, explains Eugene Canale, president of the exchange, to the dominant position the exchange, first in its kind in the world, has gained within five years.

Formerly the market price for coffee was established by the weekly auction in London. It is under that flag that more than 60

Tremendous Savings In The High Grade, Nationally Known
High Top and Low Quarter

Florsheim Shoes

"FOR THE MAN WHO CARES"

$7.98

Sixteen styles to choose from—regular prices $10.00 and $11.00 everywhere.

Calf and Kid, Black or Tan Men's Dress Shoes, in all sizes. These shoes are known for their long wearing qualities, for their exceptionally good styles, and especially for their comfort—from the day you buy them. They are shaped to fit your foot, and they hold their shape.

Bostonian and Nunn-Bush Shoes Greatly Reduced

Closing out, odds and ends of our $8.00 Bostonian Shoes. All good styles, in black or tan Oxfords. Some with collegiate hard heels! On sale at $3.98.

Also the famous Nunn-Bush $7.50 "styled to the last" shoes, in this sale at the pair

$3.98

Geo. W. Robison & Co.

THE LEADING DEPARTMENT STORE
Hope Nashville

Prescott

Wednesday, May 28th—Jersey Heifer Day in Hope

Just as in other commodity markets, the unit of trading is the ton, which to a broker means 30,000 pounds of cocoa beans.

The exchange's operations enable concerns in the cocoa industry to protect themselves against price fluctuations, according to Mr. Canale. By selling short on the exchange an amount of cocoa equal to his actual purchase from an African shipper he can protect himself against any price fluctuation during the time he holds the cocoa.

Trading in cocoa futures has attracted many speculators for the amount of trading annually is far in excess of the 500,000 tons produced in the world. Last year about $200,000,000 worth of cocoa was sold on the exchange.

"Tanned Legs" at the Grand Soon

If Ziegfeld glorified all the girls in Hollywood purporting to have been in his famous Follies at one time, he would be a Methuselah—and producer of 10,000 shows.

However, a bona fide Ziegfeld beauty does appear every now and then, and Radio Pictures captured four of them for the sparkling musical comedy, "Tanned Legs," coming to the Grand theatre. And a fifth staged the dances. She is Pearl Eaton, RKO dance director and member of the famous Eaton family which includes Mary, Charles and Doris.

The four who appear before the camera are Ann Pinnington, Helen Kaiser, Kay English and Anna Karina.

NOTICE

There will be an all day singing at Salem church, two miles south of Prescott, about one-fourth mile off highway No. 19 next Sunday, May 18. Everyone is invited to attend and bring song books and a well filled basket.

Personal Mention

Dr. L. M. Lite, who has been doing some research work at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., for the last two weeks, is expected to return home Friday.

Five of the senior girls enjoyed a bunting party at the home of Miss Thelma Barber, Tuesday night. A most delightful six o'clock luncheon was served to the following: Misses Geneva Reynolds, Maxine Cupp, Mozzella Dollar, Lillian Willis and Avis Woodul. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. G. Barber.

Aspiring Youth (to prospective employer): "You'll pay me what I'm worth!"

Store manager: "I'll do better than that; I'll give you a small salary to start with."—The Trumpeter.

A Model Model

Billion Contented Bees Buzz for Honey Magnate

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 14.—(P)—Two hundred miles of bee hives extending in an unbroken chain around the great Okefenokee Swamp near here, second only to the Florida Everglades in area, together with bees set in every penetrable portion of the vast lowland, make up one of the world's largest apiaries.

J. J. Wilder, owner of this mammoth colony of bees, declares that contentment of workers is as essential to the bees as to any other industry.

In his early teens he became interested in bee culture. He placed the bees in a glass hive, which he kept in his room. There he watched every move the bees made.

From that hive has grown a business producing nearly 1,000,000 pounds of honey a year, which is shipped to all parts of the world. During the world war the government took Mr. Wilder's entire output and sent it to Europe. He now owns more than 1,000,000 bees filling 15,000 hives.

Hard Work

"I want you to understand," said Young Spender, "that I got my money by hard work."

"Why, I thought it was left to you by your rich uncle!"

"So it was; but I had to work to get it away from the lawyers."—Typo Graphic.

There is more power in that Gulf Gasoline and Supreme Motor Oil

M. S. BATES

AGENT

PHONE 21 or 924

IT'S SAFE TO BE HUNGRY

at the

CHECKERED CAFE

PLATE LUNCH 35c

Good Coffee — Home Made Pastries

SURPRISE WARD'S MID WEEK SPECIAL

TUMBLERS

Our SURPRISE SPECIAL for this week . . . A nine ounce tumbler . . . Medium weight, our regular FIVE CENT VALUE

Surprise Special Price Two for

5c

Limit 6 to the Customer

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

112 E. 2nd.

Phone 930

Hope, Ark

Tanlac
MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

NOTICE

Our office will be closed Friday and Saturday, May 16 and 17, as we will be in Little Rock attending the annual convention of the Arkansas Osteopathic Association. Drs. Chas. A. and Etta E. Champlin. 14-21

73 Persons Indicted For Sale of "Jake"

DAYTON, Ohio, May 14.—(P)—Seventy-three persons in various parts of the country were indicted by the federal grand jury here Tuesday afternoon in connection with the alleged sales of fluid extract of ginger, known commonly as "jake," which has caused numerous deaths recently.

Carl Laemmle, motion picture producer, swept floors and pushed a hand truck in a department store. His energetic labors soon won him a promotion—his employers gave him a bigger truck.

SEE US FOR SEAT COVERS
AWNINGS
P. A. Lewis Motor Co.
Phone 7-7-7

KC
Baking Powder
(double-acting)

Same Price for over 38 years

25 ounces for 25¢

The price is right

Quality is right
(every can guaranteed)

MILLIONS OF POUNDS
USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

Brim-full

of the goodness that sunshine gives

THERE are favored areas of the earth's surface where sun and soil combine to make tobaccos marvelously good. Delicate Turkish leaves that ripen in the golden sunshine of the Orient . . . mellow leaves of Domestic from the sun-warmed slopes of our own Southland . . . the choicest of these great tobaccos mingle their mild, rich, natural goodness in the inimitable Camel blend.

The keen, sweet zest and sparkle of pure sunshine is stored for you in Camel Cigarettes—irradiated by the sun itself. And up-to-date, scientific methods of manufacture preserve this flavor and bring it to you, mild and fresh, with none of its goodness lost.

Don't deny yourself the luxury of

CAMELS